Volunteer Role: Museum Learning Volunteer

An exciting opportunity is available for a Museum Learning Volunteer at the Langley Academy. The main task will be to work with the Museum Learning team and teachers to research and deliver projects for children and young people.

Other tasks might include:

- Helping to install and interpret exhibitions
- Engaging the school and wider community through social media
- Enabling the use of objects in the classroom
- Working with other community groups
- Running evaluations

What could you get out of it?
This is a fantastic opportunity to build on your experience of working with children and young people in the UK's only Museum Learning school, developing your knowledge of current teaching and learning. You will also develop skills including museum interpretation, publicity, research and evaluation.

We are looking for…
- A person who able to communicate their enthusiasm for museums and museum learning
- A person that is friendly and able to interact with students, staff, and other volunteers
- A person who is committed to learning and improving their skills

The Langley Academy

The Langley Academy is the UK's only Museum Learning school and has a special focus on science and Museum Learning. Students are actively engaged with museum objects and displays in the school's atrium, as well as museum visits. Further Information about the school can be found at www.langleyacademy.org or on TLA Museum Learning twitter @MuseumLearning.

To apply please complete the Volunteering Registration form
http://www.langleyacademy.org/pages/volunteering.html
Write Learning Volunteer in the box asking How do you want to be involved? For more information please contact Jenny Blay, Head of Museum Learning; jenny.blay@langleyacademy.org

The Langley Academy is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment. All appointments are subject to an Enhanced Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) Check.